

JUST ADD WATER!

Located on the Colorado River near the spot where Arizona, Nevada and California meet, Bullhead City is in Mohave County, Arizona, the fifth largest county in the United States. Bullhead City is a thriving community where scenic beauty provides the backdrop for a host of attractions and outdoor recreation opportunities. Within the borders of Mohave County, you can experience the Grand Canyon, London Bridge, Hoover Dam, Davis Dam, the Hanasu National Wildlife Refuge, the Colorado River and a myriad of lakes.

Bullhead City incorporated in 1984 and the population has grown from just over 10,000 residents in 1980 to nearly 40,000 in the most recent census. Bullhead City is home to the Arizona Veterans Memorial, a beautiful riverfront park set aside to remember those Arizonans who lost their lives serving our country in the last 100 years. The Colorado River Valley is known across the Southwest as a year-round vacation paradise, offering a choice between the cold, fast-flowing Colorado River and the warm, smooth waters of Lake Mohave. Both are perfect for water sports and sport fishing throughout the year. Within a short drive of the heart of Bullhead City is the Fort Mojave Indian Reservation where the old meets the new and where the ancient Native American culture of the Mojave Tribe continues to endure alongside modern agriculture methods, business establishments and casino gaming.

Located in the scenic Black Mountains east of Bullhead City on historic Route 66, Oatman is one of the few remaining living ghost towns in Arizona. The town boasts an array of gift and souvenir shops, art galleries, museums, eateries, saloons and antique shops. Clark Gable and Carol Lombard spent their wedding night at the Oatman Hotel back in 1939 where today, friendly wild burros wander the streets looking for a treat and the Oatman Ghost Riders stage their daily gunfights on Main Street.

About two miles north of Bullhead City, where Lake Mohave's clear waters back up nearly 70 miles behind Davis Dam, there's another unique vacation opportunity awaiting. Katherine Landing, inside the Lake Mead National Recreation Area, offers a large full-service marina with a store, restaurant, motel and campgrounds. Boat rentals are available year-round in a variety of choices from fishing dinghy's to houseboats. Everywhere in the region there's an abundance of wildlife including blue heron, roadrunners, hawks, big horn sheep, antelope, deer, bobcat, coyote, puma and javalina, all year-round residents of the Black Mountains.

With the Colorado River and Laughlin, Nevada's casinos attracting over five million visitors to the Bullhead City area every year, it's no wonder that for a business trip, conference, or vacation, Bullhead City is a perfect choice...Just Add Water!
